Annual Meeting of United Church Shows Progress

Wednesday evening, Jan. 25th, saw a crowded audience seated at the tables for the annual meeting of the First United Church. A new feature of these gatherings was the banquet, the tables being set in the newly-constructed basement which looked so inviting.

The Women's Association made an additional contribution to the building fund in order to call with soundproofing wallboard and line with fir-joint the main room and kitchen of the basement, thus making a very fine set of social rooms for the church.

During the supper, Mr. N. A. MacEachern, with Mrs. L. Mellett at the piano and Mrs. Cordie with the violin as assistants, provided the community sing-song. Supper being over, the business of the annual meeting began promptly, with Rev. A. R. Schrag in the chair and Mr. W. East, the secretary of the congregation, at his side. The reports were gratifying and well read. Business went along briskly and the meeting was in fine spirit, and closed with such enthusiasm that augurs well for 1933.

Mr. A. E. Millen, Clerk of the Session, gave a review of the spiritual state of the church's activities among a pastoral charge of over 500. Church services were continuous. Due acknowledgement was made of the courtesy extended by St. Andrew's congregation for the use of their building, whilst ours was under renovation. Dedication and memorial services were reported and the removal by death of two elders, Dr. Gunderson and Mr. A. S. Craig, and of a former choir leader for years, Mr. D. Ward. There were 14 burials, 15 marriages, and nine baptisms conducted by the pastor, Mr. J. B. Christie was elected to the Session. Special appreciation was extended for the Junior Choir of thirty voices, and of the Senior Choir, particularly for their Cantata work. Mr. Odell moved a vote of thanks to the Pastor and his wife for their services, which was heartily accorded, as were several other expressions of appreciation of services rendered in various departments of the church.

Finances are in fair shape. Indeed if the small amount of outstanding arrears were paid in the books would be balanced both as to current account and building fund. With an enrolment of 175 the Sunday school carried on a good year's work and closed with a small credit balance.

Mrs. Gale's and Mrs. Craig's reports of the Junior school and Mr. Millin's of the Senior, showed a varied set of activities in good spirit. It was a treat to listen to the reports of the group activities of C.G.I.T. given by Misses MacAllister and Shaw, and of the boys by Jack French and Fred Lord. Choir report was given by Miss V. Millen. Mr.

ALBERTA SCRIP NOT FEASIBLE, BROWNLEE SAYS

Edmonton, Jan. 27.—The provincial government is not yet ready to state whether it will adopt a system of issuing scrip as advocated in a resolution passed at the recent annual U. F. A. convention at Calgary, stated Premier J. E. Brownlee on Friday.

"Treasury department officials are considering the whole question of scrip," he said. "Scrip, however, is not so feasible from a provincial standpoint as it is from the standpoint of a city or a town, which, can make its own arrangements with merchants."

"It is purely a question of the amount to be saved. All it saves is the interest on the amount of scrip issued, which, comparatively speaking, is not a large item in the provincial budget. But at the moment I am not going to say we are not prepared to adopt the scheme."

DISEASE HITS BIRDS IN EGG LAYING TESTS

Lethbridge, Jan. 28. — Sixty-two birds from the finest poultry flocks in Alberta had died today as result of an epidemic which broke at the Lethbridge experimental farm where they were entered in an egg laying contest.

Recognizing the seriousness of the situation, the contest management issued a statement in which it said an epidemic of infectious bronchitis broke out among the birds January 7. The outbreak started among the Rhode Island Reds and Black Minors and it is feared other deaths may result. Every effort to check spread of the disease has been taken.

Statement of the management showed no signs of the disease were evident at the close of the 1931-32 contest, and to make sure of cleanliness the houses were thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The disease is not evident among other poultry at the farm.

Value of the birds which have died from the disease has been placed in excess of $300 and the owners are scattered in all parts of the province. Substitution of birds in the contest is permitted, and steps along this line are being considered.

FUR IS PLENTIFUL IN NORTHERN ALBERTA

Peace River, Jan. 26.—Completing an inspection trip to all parts of the company in northern Alberta, J. Bartleman, district manager of the Hudson's Bay company, returned to Peace River Wednesday afternoon by Canadian Airways aeroplane piloted by J. Bythell. Mr. Bartleman covered in four flying days an inspection tour that by the old means, namely, the dog team, took two months and made saving time the trip was made in a comfortable, almost luxurious, accommodation provided by modern cabin aeroplanes, certainly preferable to the hardships and exposure of the old means of travel which taxed to the limit the physical endurance of travellers.

Leaving Peace River with the last load of January mail, for Fort Vermilion and other northern points, Mr. Bartleman found conditions in the north very pleasing for his company. Fur is more plentiful than for many years and the residents of the various communities were found in good spirits.

DEAF AND DUMB AIDED BY NEW APPARATUS

Toronto, Jan. 27.—A perfected apparatus, which will enable the deaf and dumb to hear and so learn to speak, was demonstrated Thursday in the office of Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, Ontario minister of public works, under whose direction it was constructed.

The apparatus is in the form of a portable cabinet and has been tried out in the Ontario school for deaf at Belleville with distinct success.

It is developed on the principle of sound amplification and the cost is a mere fraction of "hearing" machines now in use it was stated.

E. R. Livingstone, sound engineer, is the inventor of the apparatus.

Obituary

MRS. ELIZABETH GROVES

Another of the early settlers of the Wetaskiwin district was called to her heavenly home on Tuesday of this week in the person of Elizabeth, relict of the late Enoch Groves, at the age of 76 years, 4 months and 8 days. She had enjoyed very good health until about three months ago, when she was stricken with paralysis.

The late Mrs. Groves was born at Ottawa and resided in that community until thirty-three years ago when she came west with her late husband and they located on a farm about three miles north of Wetaskiwin, where she lived until the time of her death. Her husband predeceased her in 1924.

She leaves to mourn a family of eight children, namely, William of Calgary; Samuel of Edmonton; Mrs. Walter Woods of Millet; John of Calgary; Charles and Walter of Wetaskiwin, Robert (with whom she resided) on the farm near Wetaskiwin, and Bert of Camrose.

This week it is our duty to chronicle the demise of Josephine M., relict of the late Peter Schmitz, who passed away on Saturday last, at the home of her son, R. E. Schmitz, at the age of seventy-four years, ten months and nine days. She was born in Guttentag, Germany, and lived in Guttentag for several years before coming to Wetaskiwin in the year 1904, and since that time she has been an esteemed citizen. Her husband predeceased her fifteen years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss four daughters and one son, namely, Mary of Vancouver, Mrs. Kelley of Sioux Falls, S.D.; Mrs. Nels Rasmussen of Brightview, and Elizabeth and Ralph, at home; ten grandchildren and a host of friends and acquaintances.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Sam Baxter, E. D. O'Neill, A. L. McIlhargy, P. L. Greiner, N. Beguin and P. Patenaude. The interment took place in the family plot in the R.C. cemetery.

CRIME AND STREET LIGHTS

Bolton, Wis., officials have decided that there is a relation between electric lights and crime. The first night burglars broke into 20 homes and garages. The residents complained so much the council ordered the lights turned back on.

Much Activity Marks Opening of Federal House

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—The House of Commons reassembled today after a two-month recess, heard Prime Minister B. B. Bennett and members of his government make several major announcements, and ran into a full-dress division in a two-hour sitting.

Premier Bennett will make a statement to the House tomorrow on the proposed barter of Canadian cattle for Russian oil and coal, he announced.

Unemployment and farm relief legislation will be introduced later in the session, Premier Bennett announced, but its form had not been settled by the government.

Lifting of the ban against liquor exports to United States and other dry countries was proposed in a bill introduced by Col. S. C. Robinson, Conservative, Essex West.

It was not moved past first reading but the border cities may be able to afterwards have more to say on an early vote in the House in an effort to have it in force as long as possible before United States repealed its prohibition law. Col. Robinson estimated Canada loses $20,000,000 revenue every year through the export prohibition.

The division was prompted by a resolution, moved by Oscar Beaulac, Liberal, Bellechasse, proposing currency printed in French and Eng-

THE PURCHASING

POWER OF WHEAT

A window display in a grocer's store in an Ontario town caused a good deal of comment. It showed a bag of sugar priced at $17.75, which was the retail in 1920. Opposite was shown what the $17.75 would buy today: the same bag of sugar, 3 pkgs. shredded wheat, 2 corn flakes, 1 lb. tea, 2 lbs. coffee, 3 cans salmon, 1 jar pickles, 2 cans corn, 1 pkg. meal, 1 pkg. cake flour, 100 pounds of flour, 2 pkgs. pep, 10 bars soap, 3 cans cleaner, 1 can macaroni, 2 cans pumpkin, 4 bottles ketchup, 3 pkgs. cornstarch, 2 lbs. cheese, 2 pkgs. oatmeal, 2 cans spaghetti, or 90 bushels of wheat.

When Is Sunday
in Russia?

When the fever of nationalization seized the Russians they decided to rationalize the calendar. Henceforth the wheel of economy was to turn so fast that it could not be stopped even on Sunday. Therefore Sunday was to be abolished. With this drastic measure the Soviet leaders hoped to solve three problems all in one. First, they hoped to achieve the economic ideal of uninterrupted work. The "running working year" seemed as important as the conveyor belt in industry. The second problem was of a social kind. In the capitalist countries people could be satisfied with having one day of rest a week; in the proletarian State they were to rest and disport themselves every sixth day, only they were to take it in turns. The third consideration, and certainly not the least, was the desire to do away with a church holiday.

Of the three aims perhaps only the last one has been realized. It was indeed a blow to the orthodox church, although in view of the fact that work in offices and shops starts at ten and in factories at nine o'clock in the morning, those who want to attend Sunday mass have ample time to do it.

As to the hope that the people would get more rest and recreation it could hardly be said that it materialized. If no work is done on a Sunday, it means that there are 52 holidays a year. By suspending work every sixth day, sixty-one holidays are obtained, but the small margin is more than compensated by the fact that the Bolsheviks have abolished all other church holidays, and a good many of the former civic holidays. The final result is, therefore, more or less the same. However, the measure impressed the masses and therefore proved a moral advantage to the regime.

Things are different with the nationalization problem. In this respect the scheme did not seem to work at all. A department head would ring for his secretary to take dictation; he would be informed that the comrade secretary had her rest day. Dictation would be postponed until tomorrow then, when the filing clerk had her day out and the necessary data were unavailable. The third day the department head himself was away. Things were even worse in the stores and catastrophic in the factories, so that instead of turning faster the wheels turned far more slowly than before.

With its typical candor the Soviet Government admitted that the scheme was a failure and promulgated a decree whereby all enterprises not disposing of a sufficient staff for substitution were to close their doors on a certain day of the week. As the working week consisted of six days, in certain industries only five days, they were to close every fifth or sixth day. The day itself was not fixed, for, having failed to rationalize the working days they hoped at least to rationalize the holidays, thereby avoiding over-crowded theatres and recreation grounds.

But even this proved impractical, especially for the purely commercial offices and institutions. Nothing was left, therefore, but to fix the holidays from above. Now almost all government offices which formerly were allowed to close every fifth day have reverted to the six-day week. In practice the "Sunday" has been re-established in the Soviet Union, only it does not coincide with the Sunday of the bourgeois calendar. In Soviet Russia every sixth day is a "Sunday," and it recurs on the 6th, 12th, 18th and 24th and 30th of each month. This is the new Russian calendar.

Most of the shops are open even on the above days, but this is by no means a conquest of the revolution, for in other European countries many shops keep open on holidays.

All government offices and commercial organizations observe the new Sunday. The Moscow "City," the Ilyinka, where all big trusts, banks and economic commissariats are located, is as quiet on these days as the London City on a holiday.

The reestablishment of the "Sunday" has already had a reaction on the social life of the country. People once more plan things and make appointments and arrangements for excursions, etc., on the "sixth" or "twelfth."

The History of Shoes

When Canadian men, women and children put on their shoes in the morning do they realize that they may be exact duplicates of shoes once worn in ancient Egypt, Persia, Rome or Greece? The smart sandals, for instance, worn by the well-dressed woman of today, were designed probably from specimens taken from Egyptian mummies. It is the oldest footwear of which there is any record.

Sandals, the almost universal shoe of the ancients in warm countries, are still the favorite footgear of many people. Although there are 232 varieties in some countries, the simple type of shoe worn long before the Christian era is still used. The ancient Greek exchanged his sand-

Editorial opinion throughout Canada has been very largely in favor of the proposals advanced by E. W. Beatty, K.C., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway, looking toward the consolidation of the two railway systems under one management, and the only practical means of relieving the intolerable burden upon the Canadian taxpayers. Mr. Beatty made his proposal in a recent speech before the Toronto Canadian Club, and the following paragraphs from leading editorialists on the subject, clearly indicate the nation-wide scope of supporting public opinion. A total of 47 daily newspapers commented up to January 20th, of which 32 were in favor of consolidation.

"This is far and away the most candid, constructive, and striking contribution to the discussion of our transportation problem that has yet been made."—Montreal Gazette.

"Drastic action appears to be essential if the tremendous burden is to be lifted from the shoulders of our people."—Halifax Herald.

"It is essential with our small population that the railway mileage and service should not outrun the needs of the country."—Halifax Chronicle.

"Mr. Beatty's call for action is timely."—Saint John Telegraph-Journal.

"There is much that appeals in the suggestion of Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C."—Hamilton Herald.

"We agree with the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the country must get down to bed rock."—Mall & Empire, Toronto.

"Mr. Beatty has offered a solution of the railway problem, definite steps to this end should not be delayed."—Border Cities Star-Windsor.

"The most constructive of all suggestions have emanated from Mr. Beatty."—Victoria Colonist.

"He urges the drastic remedies he deems necessary, regardless of every consideration, except the salvation of the two great railway systems and of the State."—Vancouver News.

"Mr. Beatty's carefully considered pronouncement compels serious thought, as to whether the unexplored perils of a monopoly are great enough to require that the Canadian public shall go on paying millions annually for the doubtful privilege of having separate systems."—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

"It would be a middle course counseled if the Duff recommendations were to be adopted by Parliament."—Sherbrooke Daily Record.

"Mr. Beatty's view is obviously in accordance with the general movement as it is coming through out the world."—Ottawa Citizen.

Galleries have longer hours on these days and there are matinees in all the theatres. In short, the Soviet Sunday is not at all different from the old bourgeois Sunday.

There is, however, one new feature about it which is rather puzzling to the outsider. The abolition of the seven-day week has as a result the disappearance of the names of the other days from the current language. No Soviet citizen plans anything for Monday or Tuesday, but for the 23rd or 24th, etc. Dates, not the days of the week, are the distinctive sign of appointments.

But even this is perhaps only a transitory phenomena, which will last until the six-day week and the new Sunday have received new names and a decree of the Kremlin will announce that henceforth Monday will be called Saturday and Tuesday Kalin-day, in which case Sunday would, of course, correspond to Lench-day.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring bad headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples. If neglected, it can seriously impair health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

dals for shoes only in exceptional circumstances. Long boots lacing up the front were worn by Greek hunters. Besides sandals the Roman patricians wore shoes of black leather; and leather shoes were reserved for senators, and the long boot or buskin reaching sometimes to near the knee, and frequently supplied with a thick sole to add to the apparent stature of its wearer, was appropriated to tragedians and hunters.

In medieval times shoes with long pointed toes were worn by the high-born; and towards the close of the 14th century these points became ridiculously elongated, so that there appeared to be a long strip projecting from each foot. Half-boots were worn by the Anglo-Saxons and Anglo-Normans, and in the reign of Edward IV., if not earlier, the boot proper, with tops and spurs, was established as an article of knightly dress.

And so down through the years appear in succession the white-topped boots of the reign of Charles I., the highly-decorated French boot of the time of Charles II., the jackboot worn by horsemen, the famous yellow-topped boots worn in England in the 18th century; the Hessian boot, once indispensable as an article of walking attire; and the Wellington boot which was finally superseded by the Blucher, a short ankle-boot somewhat after the style of the boots worn today.

Canada exports large quantities of boots and shoes, mostly of rubber or canvas. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1932, total exports of boots and shoes amounted to $3,955,506 pairs, valued at $3,663,442.—National Review.

The Lane Walk

In a strong, legible hand the writer signed "Emily Morton" at the bottom of her letter, read it again to check its correctness, then folded it for mailing.

It was a good letter—well written, concise. It told her age, schooling, business training and experience, reason for leaving last position, salary expected. Yes, a good letter, complete—but was it? Emily Morton described herself as a valuable secretary, but she omitted to say that she must walk on crutches. Her record of experience made no mention of the infantile paralysis that left her with a shrivelled leg.

Judge Rutherford had not minded her handicap. But it was the influence of her father, the Judge's friend, that obtained the position for her. After eighteen years as his secretary, death terminated the contract. Since her father had gone, too, no more influence was available. The additional feature of being 36 served to complicate the situation more than could be offset by the eighteen years of experience.

Weeks of fruitless effort to find another position had broken Emily's morale and reduced her cash reserve. People were so kind, so tactful, but "there were others to consider" and "we'll let you know if we are interested."

Then she moved out of the room and down the steps of the boarding house, her letter held in one crutch by a metal clasp.

In course of time the usual answer came—"shall be glad to interview you on Thursday." There was no elation in the words—merely a dread of the ordeal to be endured. Again she would receive studied avoidance of physical handicap, again to be told that "there were others to consider."

What was the use of going at all? Why not write again, saying: "In reply to your letter please be advised that I am a cripple, that I have a shrivelled leg. My mind is all right. I am capable, experienced, hard-working, intelligent, but crippled. I walk on crutches. Kindly notify me if you still wish to see me."

Of course, that would be the end. The only possible chance was in going. She thumped out again, the passers-by making way for her crutches. Elevator men started their cars before they were filled, so as not to crowd her. After all, people were decent, but it was hateful to be always the object of their consideration.

She opened the door of room 1219 Montague building, and found herself behind a low partition with a swing gate. An older woman came forward.

"You are Miss Morton? Come in, will you? Mr. Holmes will see you at once."

Fortunately she held back the little gate, saving Emily the difficulty of struggling through it and emphasizing the crutches. These little swing gates were devilish things to pass through.

Mr. Holmes sat in a private office, the windows behind him letting in a flood of sunlight that made it difficult for her to see his face, but that made her feel he could look almost through her. She flushed in spite of a determination to be at ease.

Mr. Holmes did not waste time asking questions.

"Your letter, Miss Morton," he said, "seems to tell your complete history. This morning I would like to test your stenography. There are book and pencil. Please take this dictation."

It seemed to Emily Morton he purposely dictated as rapidly as possible. The strangeness of his voice, the unusual words, deliberately used, and, above all, her wonderment at this unexpected opportunity of a test—all these things combined to bewilder her.

Suddenly he stopped. "Read that back, will you?" he said curtly. When she had finished he touched a bell on his desk. The older woman appeared at the door.

"Miss Dowling, I am satisfied that Miss Morton will fill our needs. Will you explain to her the—er—peculiarities of the place? And, Miss Morton, when you have taken off your hat I'll have some more dictation. My desk is loaded with work."

Stunned at the sudden good fortune, Emily slipped her crutches under her arms and went to the outer office.

Noticing her amazement, Miss Dowling hastened to explain what Mr. Holmes had termed the "peculiarities of the place."

"Mr. Holmes is a lawyer," she said, "but engaged only in consultation work, preparation of briefs and so forth. He is a man of great mentality and his secretary must be very capable."

"But what of these?" gasped Emily, indicating her crutches. "He said nothing—"

"It wasn't necessary. We had investigated your record and knew all about them."

"Then why does he hire a—a cripple?"

"I think, my dear, that he places mentality first. You see, he has been totally blind since he was 16—ran away to get to France at the outbreak of the war."

450 M.P.H. IN THE AIR

The unprecedented speed, in level flight, of 720 kilometres (450 miles) per hour has been attained recently by an Italian seaplane. This speed was flown over one lap of a 3 kilometre course, and it was reached on more than one occasion.

For the world record challenge the flight has to be made twice in both directions, and the average of the four laps then calculated. The attempt may be made in the next few days. The pilot will probably be Flight-Sergeant P. Agello.

The machine is a development of the Macchi monoplane twin-engine seaplane, which came to England for the Schneider Trophy contest in 1929, but did not then fly. It is now fitted with two Fiat engines, giving an aggregate of about 6,500 h.p., compared with the 2,600 h.p. of the British world-record machine.

Here and There

"The decrease in freight car loadings which began in 1930 has continued almost uninterruptedly. In 1931 up to the end of the first week of December, 558,359 less freight cars had been loaded on all Canadian Railways than for the same period of the previous year. During the same period of this year 378,016 less cars were loaded than in 1931. The decline in passenger business has been relatively the same. The resultant effect upon railway earnings has been naturally disastrous. For the first ten months of 1931 Canadian Pacific gross revenue declined 22.1 per cent. as compared with that of 1930. For the first ten months of this year, moreover, there was a further decline of 15.4 per cent. The decline continues, and there certainly appears to be no evidence in sight that for many years we shall see them entirely eliminated and our earnings back where they were in 1928."—E. W. Beatty, K.C., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway, in his review of 1932.

In the vanguard of the winter vacation traffic to the South Seas and the Orient, the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Japan" cleared the Narrows at Vancouver January 14 with a list of 411 passengers. Recent payment by Great Britain of $95,550,000 war debt instalment, reminds dealers of the war days when $95,000,000 in gold was shipped by Canadian Pacific Express from Asia to England, via Canada and was carried across the Dominion on a special Canadian Pacific train, having absolute right-of-way. The train travelled without lights and was protected by scores of armed guards.

"Dark and uncertain as the outlook may appear to the casual observer, I still think that in this wider field the year has not been without important developments leading towards trade stabilization and encouragement."—E. W. Beatty, K.C., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway, in his review of 1932.

"Through intelligent education the economic and social fertility of war will eventually be recognized." is the view of Sir Norman Angell, British economist and dispeller of illusions. He said recently by Canadian Pacific liner "Montrose" after a lecture tour in the United States.

Of the 4,046,512 pounds of canned pineapple consumed in Canada between April 1 and November 30, 1932, all but 158,583 lbs. came from countries within the Empire, nearly half the total being from the Straits Settlements.

Illiteracy in Canada, is near the vanishing point. According to the last census in 1921, 92.34 per cent. of the population of Canada over five years of age could either read or write. Students enrolled in Canadian schools in 1931 numbered 2,542,747.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's tax bill for the year was almost six million dollars, bringing its total contribution to Canada's tax collections since incorporation to $116,000,000.—E. W. Beatty, K.C., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway, in his review of 1932.

Increases Canadian Distress

With the approach of 6,000 boxes of New Zealand butter to our west coast the question of butter importation, again, raises its cantankerous head. This time in an unusually ugly and unwarranted form.

Canadian butter manufacturers are aroused and producers are showing keen interest. In Alberta, creamery operators and cream shippers are demanding the shipment be impounded immediately on arrival. The Okanagan Jersey Club passed a unanimous resolution at its last meeting condemning the importation on the grounds that there is a sufficient supply of Canadian made butter on hand and that such an unwarranted shipment is detrimental to Canadian producers. This is in anticipation of the downward rush of prices which may follow arrival of so large a quantity of butter on a market already over-supplied.

It is charged that the importation of this butter is due to the desire of traders to show an unearned profit and not because of any need for supplies.

The transaction arises out of the economic upset. It is made possible only through the temporary and utterly fictitious fluctuations in values of the dollar and the pound sterling.

It affords some city-slick traders an opportunity to fish an unearned profit out of the misery and further depression of the people on the land. It has its origin in grasping greed.

With the New Zealand pound sterling quoted at $3.46 in Canadian funds instead of par at $4.86½, traders see an opportunity to make a profit. Every pound of New Zealand butter sold in Vancouver for 20c, at the present rate of exchange actually pays in the form of New Zealand 1s. 2d., which at par is the equivalent of 25c, a clear gain of 8c. That is enough to pay duty, ocean freight, wharfage charges and a neat profit.

The present situation may be the first of many. New Zealand has a huge surplus and dealers are looking for outlets. Canada offers a likely dumping ground.

The greatest increase in butter production in the records of New Zealand is now being enjoyed. The first three months of the present season of heavy production on those islands show an advance of nearly 20 per cent.

The record increase in production by our cousins, the 157,178,000 pounds now enroute to market, and the unfavorable monetary exchange rate, are justifiable causes for alarm on the part of Canadian dairymen. At the same time we should remember some advantages recently won. The pact consummated at Ottawa changed ad valorem duty of 10 per cent on dairy products entering Great Britain from foreign countries, to a tariff of 15c per cwt., the equivalent of 2.25c per pound at prevailing exchange and current London prices. Entry is free for butter from Canada. This gives us an advantage on a big market. Canadian dairy interests also have the protection of 4c a pound duty against imports from New Zealand. The Dominion Government has not been unhelpful of our interests and no doubt the authorities expect Canadian dairymen to do their part to reduce production costs and in this way to meet competition. However an 8c a pound advantage because of exchange rates was never thought of, and atop of this their very favorable climatic conditions during our winter months, actually gives the New Zealand dairy industry a substantial advantage.

Butter importers at Vancouver advance the claim that the shipment now enroute is not large and that the prospect of its arrival has not yet disturbed the market. Also they state there is less butter in Canada than there was at the corresponding date one year ago. They do not state that there are 26,252,000 pounds which is more than the five year average of 24,000,000 pounds.

To come back to our local situation, on 800 Okanagan farms cream cheques are today the main source of revenue. The tie and pole business is almost at a standstill. It is almost impossible to sell veal or hogs except in carlots. Grains are of little value except for feeding. It is a fact that on hundreds of Okanagan farms cream cheques buy the groceries, hardware, clothing, drugs and other supplies. Sometimes they are used to help to pay the taxes.

It is for this reason that we are interested in importations of New Zealand butter brought here to make a profit for traders who cannot or will not see the harm they do their neighbors, in reaching for a greedy dollar for themselves.—Vernon News.

OLD DOBBIN COMES BACK

A paragraph of special interest to Canadian farmers appearing in the annual report of the Horse Division of the Live Stock Branch is quoted as follows:

"In certain sections there is a demand for lighter clear-legged horses, big enough to do some work on the farm and also suitable for a certain amount of road work. The demand for hunters and saddlers compared with some previous years is by no means keen, nevertheless the outstanding animal still finds a market at a good price. The interest in the hunter and saddle horse, however, is apparently as keen as ever judging by the fact that hunt and riding clubs are increasing rather than decreasing even under present conditions. This goes to show that as conditions improve the demand for this type of horse will steadily increase. As it takes about five years to develop a hunter and as there is a scarcity of them in the country today, the horse man that continues to breed will be the fortunate one four or five years hence. The same holds true in the breeding of draught horses. The demand for horses for draught work is growing and will undoubtedly continue for some time owing to economic conditions. It is further safe to assume that to many it has been demonstrated that the horse is helping to keep down the overhead under economic pressure and he will also help to lessen operating costs in better times."

The provincial government agreed to provide a fund for the compensation of property owners in the Riverdale section of Edmonton for damage to homes and land through coal mining operations.

The somewhat serious financial situation that has been disturbing the Calgary city council was relieved at the beginning of the week by the agreement of the Bank of Montreal to give credit for $750,000 and to take $2,270,000 in debentures to cover a loan of $2,000,000 made in 1931. The council's determination not to pay New York exchange on maturities due January 1 still holds, however.

Halifax, Jan. 20.—One death at sea and three on land and widespread havoc among the coastal establishment of Nova Scotia's fishermen were attributed to the violence of a winter north-east gale that gradually passed Sunday.

Influenza and pneumonia have assumed epidemic proportions in eastern Canada, and Montreal hospitals reported 2,000 cases.

LONE RIDGE LOCAL U.F.A.

Members and friends are reminded of the next meeting to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Steedman at Falun on Thursday next, Feb. 7th, at 8 p.m. prompt. Principal item on the agenda will be the delegate's report of the U.F.A. Convention at Calgary. All who are interested in the decisions reached at that Convention, where matters of importance are cordially invited to be present. Come yourself and bring a friend. Ladies please bring lunch.

MILLET U.F.W.A.

The January meeting of the Millet branch of the U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Carney in the village. Though the day was quite cold twelve members were present.

In the absence of Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Pogue officiated in the chair.

After the opening song of "O Canada," the minutes of the annual meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. L. Gray, were read and adopted on motion of Mrs. Wood, seconded by Mrs. Maine.

Business of the present month was then transacted. Report of the second card party given by the local in the Community hall was read, discussed and adopted. It was not decided where the third card party of the series would be held owing to some of the committee not being present. The date and place would be announced later.

The financial report of the local was read by the secretary, treasurer and means of raising additional funds were discussed. Details to appear later.

A letter of thanks from Bethany Lodge was read thanking the local for a gift of tea towels sent them in December.

A letter of thanks was received from Mrs. Lloyd Rupert for addition to lavatory provided her instead of the flowers which have always been sent to members in the hospital. Mrs. Rupert was the first member to have become the mother of twins in the local branch.

Mrs. Easterbrook gave a detailed description of the week spent in Calgary attending Convention, which was much appreciated by all. Further details of the speeches and business will be read and discussed at the next meeting. A motion of thanks by Mrs. Wood, unanimously seconded by all members present, was tendered Mrs. Easterbrook for the splendid account given. The delegate then presented her financial report concerning convention expenses, which was adopted.

It was decided that the Secretary should write Mrs. Gray a letter on behalf of the U.F.W.A., expressing hopes for a speedy recovery, Mrs. Gray being expected home the following day.

A motion for adjournment was made by Mrs. Wood, seconded by Mrs. Higginson.

A dainty lunch was then served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Higginson and Miss M. Steumer.

The February meeting will be held on February 14th, at the home of Mrs. Chas. Brinker, when the Ladies' Moonen, Kinchella and Maine will be joint hostesses.

Program for the February meeting will be as follows:

Meeting to be opened by national song "O Canada," followed by national songs.

Roll call "Customs of other lands," Paper, "Manchuria or Stalin," by Mrs. Maine.

Paper on Emigration, by Mrs. H. Pogue.

BENNETT CALLS RAIL PROBLEM "THREAT TO ECONOMIC LIFE"

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The railway problem in Canada is threatening the very economic life of the country. Premier Bennett told a deputation of railwaymen here Thursday. Like the fabled old man of the sea it was clinging to the back of Canada, slowly throttling its life.

No language would be too extravagant to describe the seriousness of Canada's railway problem, the prime minister said. It had been submitted by the railwaymen that too much emphasis had been placed on the financial end of the problem and not enough on the human.

"But if these enterprises stop altogether there will be no work at all," said Mr. Bennett. "Our effort is to maintain, as going concerns, these enterprises. That is our job, our responsibility."

"But if the country continues as it has done in the past, we cannot continue long. We have only 10,000,000 people, scattered from sea to sea, and we must stop incurring fresh responsibilities or we cannot pay on those of the past. And if we cannot pay on our past responsibilities, we cannot borrow money."

Canada's economic life was at stake, proceeded the prime minister, "and if we lose our credit, we lose everything." The Duff royal commission advised paying of the Canadian National dividend each year, but the deficit in 1932 was $70,000,000 "and this year it looks as if I might be well within it if I said $100,000,000."

"This country," continued Mr. Bennett, "has only 10,000,000 people, and they find it exceedingly difficult to pay present taxes. We know there is a breaking point and every day gets us closer to it in this time of depression."

It would be the responsibility of the government and the Canadian National board of trustees—recommended by the Duff commission—to maintain the railways as going concerns and giving employment, said Mr. Bennett. "Sacrifices will have to be made. We may as well face that. But it will be common sacrifice. Everyone will have to suffer."

The railwaymen's deputation, headed by J. B. Ward, general chairman of the locomotive engineers of the Canadian Pacific; W. J. Best, dominion legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, and Frank McKenna, chairman of the Canadian Pacific system of Federated Shoppers, reiterated the stand taken last November before the senate railway committee. They stressed the necessity of giving consideration not only to the financial phases of the railway situation but the human aspects as well.

Every consideration would be given to the representation said Mr. Bennett.

Registered unemployed men and women in Alberta as at January 1 were 13,771.

Several members of the local entertained the gathering with typical songs, and a director of Wetaskiwin Constituency, was well received by the gathering which, considering the cold weather, was quite large. Lunch was served by the ladies, and dancing brought a pleasant evening to a close.

In response to the request that capable women be appointed to fill the vacant offices of women police magistrates in Calgary and in Edmonton, Mr. Brownlee said the government would make appointments at the earliest possible moment that it could be justified in view of increasing expenditure.

BUTTER SHIPMENT ALLOWED TO ENTER UNDER TARIFF OF 5 CENTS

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—No action will be taken to hinder the importation into Canada of 250,000 pounds of New Zealand butter, now on its way to British Columbia, it was learned in official circles here Friday. The shipment will come in under the regular five cents a pound tariff, as provided in the Canada-New Zealand treaty and will cost the importer half a cent a pound more than the Montreal market price, it was learned.

The provincial government of British Columbia has laid the whole matter in detail before the federal government and asked it to consider the question whether, under the treaty, the shipment represents "dumping," and also whether anything can be done to preserve Canadian producers from serious New Zealand competition.

Trappers arriving in Edmonton reported that fur is not plentiful this winter in the Northwest Territories.

EDMONTON KIWANIANS GUESTS OF LOCAL CLUB

On Tuesday afternoon several rinks of curlers representing the Edmonton Kiwanis club came down for an inter-club contest with the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis, and after playing ten strenuous ends, the local men were conceded to be the winners.

At the luncheon in the evening, the visitors had charge of the program, and with John McNeil as chairman, an excellent entertainment was given. Those who rendered a couple of solos each were Ed. McGarva, D. Ayson, Jack Strachan and Stewart Campbell. Pipes and drums on the bagpipes accompanied the Foster sisters who delighted the gathering with two Scotch dances, and Clayton Adams performed some sleight-of-hand tricks. The meeting closed with "Auld Lang Syne."

WETASKIWIN FIRM CELEBRATES 14TH ANNIVERSARY

Attention is called to the advertisement on the back page of this issue of The Times, announcing the 14th anniversary of The Walin Studio (hereafter to be known as "The Aristone Photo Service").

We congratulate the Aristone Photo Service on their enterprise in securing a Registered Trade Mark for their product. We especially call the attention of the farmers to the offer of The Aristone Photo Service, during February, to accept wheat in trade for photographs at the price of 40¢ per bushel (No. 1 wheat) which is, of course, far above the present market price.

We understand the change in name does not involve any change in ownership or management and we wish this enterprising firm continued success.

C.G.I.T. ACTIVITIES

On Monday, Jan. 23rd, the Golden Glow C.G.I.T. group met for their mid-week meeting in the church. After the customary opening, all business was brought up. Plans were made for a supper Valentine party to be held February 13th. A general singing followed.

Rev. A. R. Schrag gave a very interesting and enlightening geological lecture on different things imprinted in old stones found in Alberta's crust. The meeting ended with "Taps."

On Monday, Jan. 30th, the group met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Mellett. The meeting took its regular form of procedure. A mother and daughter banquet was talked over by the girls. After a short singing Mrs. Mellett gave the girls a very interesting talk on missionary work in Japan. Many delightful Japanese curios were also shown to the girls. A delightful lunch was then served by Mrs. Mellett. A very enjoyable evening was spent and it ended with "Taps."

LIBRARY NOTES

The "Search" books of Mr. H. V. Morton have done more to spread love for, and a knowledge of, Great Britain throughout the world than any books of the kind published in recent years. "In Search of Wales" is sure of a welcome as hearty as that which greeted England, Scotland and Ireland. In Wales, Mr. Morton, who is singularly susceptible to the Celtic atmosphere, finds a country entirely to his mind. His fascinating narrative takes the reader into the very heart of a land renowned for its romance, its history and its varied beauty. He is uniformly delightful whether he is describing a night on a mountain, a talk with a shepherd, a reverie in an ancient castle or an adventure in a coal mine. For the first time a writer has accepted Wales as a country and has done equal justice to the agricultural north and the industrial south.

"The Fountain" by Charles Morgan. This book has enjoyed a critical and popular success such as scarcely been accorded any novel published recently. The Fountain is only the author's third novel, but it is a work of very great distinction and genuine significance. In it he offers just about everything the critical reader can ask of any novelist; an engrossing story, distinguished writing, big emotional scenes and characters who cannot easily be forgotten.

Books are pleasant companions for long winter evenings, and we have a good selection at the Public Library, both entertaining and educational.

SPORT

TUESDAY'S HOCKEY GAME BEST EVER SEEN IN WETASKIWIN

Impregnable goal tending on the part of both Munro of the Edmonton "All Stars" and Watson of the Wetaskiwin team prevented any scoring for the first two periods of an exhibition hockey game here Tuesday evening. Flashy combination rushes by both aggregations were the features of the encounter, but all shots were turned aside by the respective goalies. Frequent solo rushes were also of no effect. The game was the fastest and cleanest ever seen on local ice, both teams being very evenly matched, and the excellent brand of hockey displayed delighted the crowd, which unfortunately was not as large as might be expected.

In the third period Farewell broke through combination rushes by both teams and made a score from close in which did not give Munro a chance. Play developed even faster than ever and fourteen minutes later Kinnaird evened the score, and two minutes later Orr also found the net, giving the visitors the advantage by 2-1. Both these scores were made near the citadel and Watson hadn't the slightest chance. On the Edmonton line-up were three former Wetaskiwin boys, Jim Munn, Kenneth Montgomery and Stanley Chandler, and they all played gilt-edge hockey.

Forbes Atkinson kept the game well in hand, and handed out only a few penalties for minor offences.

The line-up:
Edmonton—Munro, Hare, Munn, Kinnaird, Bowman, Bolton, Chandler, Montgomery, McPherson and Orr.
Wetaskiwin—Watson, Miquelon, Schneek, Brown, McMurdo, Irvine, Farewell, Greiner and Paton.

The next game will be on Thursday evening of this week, when the Leduc team will be the visitors. Be sure and see this game. It will be a thriller.

WETASKIWIN BEATS BASHAW 3-1 IN EXHIBITION GAME

In the fastest and cleanest hockey game witnessed here for many months Wetaskiwin defeated Bashaw last night in an exhibition encounter by 3-1. The game was featured by good combination as well as solo rushes.

Brown opened the scoring on a play engineered by Jim Paton who passed to McMurdo, who shot, and Brown rushed in and took the rebound, scoring an easy one. McMurdo scored the other two goals for the home team from near centre ice, both shots traveled slow and high, landing in the corner of the net. Bashaw's lonely counter was not the only goal they should have had as Bob Watson had his eagle eye working to perfection, stopping many attempts.

Miquelon was out for the first

BASHAW BEATS WETASKIWIN

Bashaw, Jan. 31.—Bashaw hockey fans were treated to another fine game Saturday when Wetaskiwin were visitors. Play was fast throughout and McDowell scoring the only goal for Bashaw in the second period from a rebound after some good combination with Sprule. The game was rough at times and a number of minor penalties were handed out.

WOOD FOR SCHOOL IS FREE

Norwich, Jan. 30.—The trustees of Norbuck school district have organized for this year by the election of Arthur T. Jones chairman and T. L. Duncan secretary-treasurer. For the second winter the chairman has engineered a wood bee and with the assistance of the neighbors has furnished a plentiful supply of dry fuel for the school at practically no cost to the district.

Palpitation of the Heart Nerves So Bad Could Not Sleep

Mrs. Fred Bingham, Swift Current, Sask., writes: "I was bothered with palpitation of the heart, and my nerves were so bad I could not sleep. I had several operations which seemed to make me worse every time. I was getting desperate and confided my trouble to a friend who recommended me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I purchased a box and got such relief I would gladly recommend them to all who are troubled as I was." For sale at all drug and general stores; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Dr. Clarence W. Lieb, prominent author of "Eat, Drink and be Healthy," says that—

"Beer and milk are the two great food beverages, the former bearing somewhat the same relation to the adult that milk does to the infant. They both contain a large amount of carbohydrates, lactose in milk and malt sugar in beer. Both beer and milk contain valuable mineral salts, and the two may be compared from the caloric standpoint."

Distribute Forage Crop Seed

In view of the success which last year attended the policy of distributing forage crop seed amongst selected farmers in the province for the encouragement of the production of forage crops, a continuance of this policy for 1933 has been decided upon, according to the provincial field crops branch. The policy is carried out jointly by the provincial field crops branch, the Dominion seed branch and the Alberta University.

Applications from farmers wishing to participate in the distribution of this seed are now being received by the provincial department of agriculture.

Turkey Cheap and Plentiful

The province of Alberta is enjoying the rather doubtful distinction this winter of having turkeys so cheap and so plentiful that, probably for the first time in history, turkey meat is on the regular meat course of the "two-bit" meals at city restaurants in the province. It has ceased to be a luxury. In fact, turkeys are a popular medium of barter for the farmers these days. The province reached the peak of its turkey production last season, and is firmly established in its position as the "turkey province of Canada."

Egg Imports and Exports

How little Alberta depends on imports of eggs is shown by the figures for 1932, which show that only 500 cases of eggs were brought into the province in comparison with an export of Alberta eggs totalling 45,842 cases to outside markets. Exports of poultry amounted altogether to 89 carloads according to final figures just released.

Largest Flying Club

Edmonton, Alberta, boasts the largest flying club in the dominion. At the annual meeting held recently it was shown that during the year 1932 24 private pilots' licenses and five commercial licenses were won by members, which is one-twelfth of all the licenses issued in the dominion to similar clubs. A total of 800 hours of flying was done during the year by pupils.

Grain Congress Entries

Prominent Alberta seed grain exhibitors who have figured in prize lists in Canadian and American grain shows, will be strongly in evidence at the world grain congress in Regina next summer, according to the entry lists for the congress now arriving at the department of agriculture at Edmonton. Former champions and near-champions are in the lists, as well as many promising new exhibitors. One of the features of the Alberta entries will be the showing of prize corn to be made from the Lethbridge district, the new corn belt of North America. More than 100 entries have already been made from Alberta, with promise of more before the close on January 31. There are a dozen entries already in the (ten-bushel) wheat class.

Alberta Oil Production
Production of petroleum in Alberta for 1932 totalled 917,622 barrels, as compared with 1,455,195 barrels during 1931.

Export of Cattle
Alberta's total export of cattle during 1932 was 96,701 head, which was slightly less than the total for the previous year.

Alberta's Wheat Bonus
Alberta's share of the wheat bonus paid last year by the federal government was $5,857,735.42, according to figures just released by the board of grain commissioners. This amount was paid on 117,154,708 bushels.

Alberta's Fine Winter
Weather statistics compiled the past week by the provincial publicity branch reveal how unusually fine a winter has been enjoyed thus far by the people of the province, with comparatively little cold weather. In the month of November some remarkably high temperatures were recorded, the mercury rising to 60 at Medicine Hat, 59 at Lethbridge, 50 at Edmonton and 52 at Calgary. During that month Edmonton had fifteen days above freezing, with a total of 19 days above 20 degrees and only three days below zero. Calgary had 15 days above freezing, and only three days below zero. Lethbridge had 18 days above freezing and only two days below zero. In December the thermometer reached as high as 50 at Lethbridge, 52 at Medicine Hat, 46 at Calgary and 36 at Edmonton. At the latter point, there were five days in which the mercury dropped below zero, and four days in which it reached above freezing, while on 17 days it was above the 20-degree mark. At Calgary, there were in December seven days above freezing, with five days below zero, and 21 days altogether above the 20-degree mark. Lethbridge had 14 days above freezing in December, with 7 days below zero, and a total of 19 days above the 20-degree mark. In January, the mercury got at high as 42 in Edmonton, 43 in Calgary, and 49 in Lethbridge. Edmonton had 5 days above freezing, 6 days altogether above the 20-degree mark, and 19 days below zero. Calgary had 6 days above freezing, a total of 11 days above the 20-degree mark, and only 5 days below zero. Lethbridge had only 4 days below zero, with 9 days above freezing and 13 days altogether above the 20-degree mark. The coldest mark in November was 23 below at Lethbridge, with 18 below at Calgary and 10 below at Edmonton. In December the coldest mark was 25 below at Edmonton, 14 below at Calgary and 13 below at Lethbridge. In January the low point was 16 below at Edmonton, 14 below at Calgary and 12 below at Lethbridge.

THE STARTING POINT

When money is tight on the farm, it is tight every place else. Goods refuse to move off the shelves of city stores, and this in turn causes a slackening in the pace of the wheels of industry. And then the city wage-earner becomes worse off than his rural cousin—he has no money, nor has he any pigs, chickens or turkeys. There was no truer word spoken than that farming is the basic industry of this country. Put money into the pocket of the farmer and he will start the mill wheel turning.

ONE REASON FOR ADVERTISING

Modern life is much different today from what it was a decade ago. Today a great deal of buying is done over the telephone.

This in turn, means that opportunities for purchases advantageous to the buyers are now almost completely centred in newspaper advertising.

The modern housewife knows what she wants, known by brand name, and orders in that manner—because advertising has taught her how she should do it and why it is profitable for her to do so.

Imagine ordering from an unknown grocer: "Some breakfast food," "some bacon," "some coffee," "some bread" and so on, as in the olden days before national advertising became the powerful force it is today.

Have you not appeared before as a witness in this suit, Madam? No, indeed, this is the first time I have ever worn it.

HALITOSIS

Advertisers have made the public breath-conscious. By word and by picture, the possessor of an unpleasant breath is depicted as one who is cut off from society and shunned as if he or she were a leper.

Halitosis is disagreeable, and it may be so offensive as to keep people at a distance. It is also true that the victim is usually unaware of his condition, but as to whether or not there is great reluctance on the part of his family or friends to inform him of the fact, we do not know.

The most common error with regard to halitosis is the belief that bad breath comes only from some faulty condition of the mouth, and that, in all cases, it can be overcome by having a clean mouth.

The offensive breath may be due to the condition of the mouth. If the teeth are not thoroughly and regularly cleaned, food particles are left around the teeth; these particles decay and give rise to an unpleasant breath.

Dental plates or bridges may not be properly fitted, with the result that they cannot be cleaned with the toothbrush. This causes food to collect and the disagreeable odor to arise.

The gums may be infected, pus may be present, and if so, an unpleasant odor is given to the breath. Any of the several inflammatory conditions which may occur in the soft tissues of the mouth may be responsible.

However, halitosis may be due to conditions outside of the mouth. Infected head sinuses which drain into the nose may be responsible, as may also be some chronic disturbance of the digestive organs, or faulty elimination.

A clean, sound mouth is desirable. The mouth is the gateway of the body. Clean food should not be allowed to be contaminated by dirty teeth or infected gums before it enters the stomach. Clean teeth, free from disease, are essential to health. In addition, a clean and healthy mouth is essential to a sweet breath.

If the breath is unpleasant, the mouth is not necessarily at fault. If it comes from outside the mouth, it cannot be overcome by any amount of attention that is limited to the mouth.

Halitosis is not a disease. It is a symptom of some abnormal condition, and attention must be given to the cause as that is the only way to overcome the annoyance.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

THE BOOMERANG

In a strong speech in Toronto on Monday, Premier Bennett declared that Canada will not resort to inflation, since the country is solvent and has no dearth of currency.

Dublin, Irish Free State, Jan. 30.— Eamon De Valera, who will again be named president of the Irish Free State when the Dail Eireann meets a week from next Wednesday, today saw realization of his ambition to head a government possessing an absolute majority.

The four-day count which succeeded last Tuesday's general election, ended with the Republican party in control of the Dail by one vote, that which the speaker casts in the event of a deadlock. With the support of the Labor party, however, the government increased its majority from 6 to 16.

The final party standing with gains and losses was:

Republicans (five gains) 77
Labor, Govt. (1 gain) 8
Nationalist, Opp'n (9 losses) 48
Centrist, Opp'n (8 gains) 11
Independent, Opp'n (3 losses) 8
Independent Lab, Opp'n (1 loss) 1

Mr. De Valera in a post-election pronouncement said the policy of the government regarding the land annuities dispute with the United Kingdom would remain unchanged.

SUPPLEMENTARY REVENUE
TAX TO STAY; BROWNLEE

Edmonton, Jan. 27.—Due to the fact that provincial revenue is at such a low ebb, the provincial government could not at present consider giving up the supplementary revenue tax which in normal years yields between $700,000 and $800,000 to provincial coffers, Premier J. E. Brownlee on Friday informed a delegation from the executive of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts which interviewed him at his legislative buildings office. The delegation had come to present resolutions passed at the 24th annual convention of the organization, held at the Palliser hotel, Calgary, November 16-18.

The supplementary revenue tax has been the target for many criticisms in the past and many opposition speakers have advocated its removal.

However, the premier's announcement on Friday, states the government's position on it for the time being at least.

In reply to a resolution resolving that "the wife, widowed mother, of any inebriate resident of the municipal district be included in the benefits of the Mother's Allowance Act," the premier stated that due to financial considerations the government did not propose this year to extend the scope of the Mother's Allowance Act.

Another resolution set forth that the matter of responsibility for destroying noxious weeds on the government owned unsold lands had been a contentious matter for a long time and therefore it was desired that the municipal districts should have the power to destroy such weeds at the expense of the government to which the land belongs. In reply to this the premier said that such action would not be considered this year.

Establishment of a memorial to the war, in the form of an international forest of 10,000,000 acres, is being considered by conservationists of the two countries.

MAY HOLD WORLD
WHEAT GATHERING

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—A world wheat conference, such as the western wheat pools suggest, figures in the plans of the coming World Economic Conference, it was learned here Wednesday. The Dominion government doesn't need to act on the suggestion of calling such a conference here, although it is seemingly sympathetic with the basic idea.

It was rumored that the subject was actually on the agenda of the world conference, but instead it is learned that the idea of those engaged in preparing for the world meet was that the wheat question should be considered incidental to the gathering proper.

Representatives of the 10 principal wheat-producing countries when in London would be called together to see what could be done about the question of acreage or the limitation of exports. The world conference date will be settled after the Washington debts parley in March.
It will likely be in May or June.

There is some expert opinion here that limitation of exports by producing countries would be the solution. In the way of limiting acreage, however desirable it might be, grave difficulties are foreseen in a country like Canada. If such were ever attempted, it would be a thing in the scope of provincial jurisdiction.

BIRDS DAMAGE STOCKS

Red Deer, Jan. 25.—Farmers with grain still in the snow-covered fields are complaining of heavy damage done to stocks by the Hungarian partridge which are very numerous in this region. Crows number from eight to 20 birds and make short work of a stock. As nearly every field has one flock, the loss bulks large. One farmer reports that a single flock of nine birds cleaned out four stocks during one afternoon. Too speedy for the average gunner, the flocks of the Hungarians were chased but little during the shooting season.

Anniversary Announcement
(Formerly The Walin Studios)

February 1st marks the 14th anniversary of my business career in Wetaskiwin and I take this opportunity to thank my many customers for the patronage that I have received.

These 14 years have brought many impressive changes in the materials, equipment and technique of photography. We are proud to have kept abreast of the changes and to be meriting the continued approval of the public with regard to our photographic service.

A large part of our business is the processing of Kodak films for amateur photographers, and we have built up a considerable business through Drug Stores and other dealers, not only in Alberta, but Saskatchewan and British Columbia as well.

In order that the quality of our finishing might have a name of its own, we have originated a TRADE MARK for our service that we have been successful in having registered at the PATENT and COPYRIGHT OFFICE in Ottawa. This registered TRADE MARK is shown below, and we ask Kodakers, when leaving films at a Drug Store or other dealer, for finishing, to please look for the display card advertising ARTISTONE PHOTO SERVICE, and to ask for ARTISTONE prints.

New low prices, in keeping with the times, will now be in effect.

This registered TRADE MARK will be stamped on the back of all kodak prints and will assure the customer that his film has been processed by our service.

The name "ARTISTONE PHOTO SERVICE" will also embrace our PORTRAIT PHOTOGRAPHY and all classes of work formerly carried on under the name
"WALIN STUDIOS."

The Firm Name is now changed from "THE WALIN STUDIOS" to
"THE ARTISTONE PHOTO SERVICE"

Our aim has always been "TO DO THE JOB RIGHT"—many times sacrificing the profit that this end might be achieved; and now with our TRADE MARKED SERVICE it will be understood that we will be (if that be possible) more than ever impressed with the desirability of the utmost in quality.

IN THESE TIMES OF DEPRESSION we know that many farmers find it hard to raise money for photographs—desirable though they may be—in connection with our anniversary, believing that conditions will improve in the near future, and wishing to assist the farmers that they may have photographs made of their families, and especially the growing and ever-changing children, we will during February, 1933, take wheat in trade for photographs, on the basis of

40c Per Bushel for Number One Wheat
(Wetaskiwin Price)

(The above applies to Portraits and Groups taken in the studio, but not to kodak finishing.)

Wheat to be delivered to any elevator during February, 1933, and a storage ticket, made out to THE ARTISTONE PHOTO SERVICE, WETASKIWIN, delivered to us for the required number of bushels at 40c a bushel (with the proper spread for other grades) to cover the cost of the photographs. We will issue a credit slip for 40c per bushel (for Number 1 wheat) and the customer may use up the credit at any time up to April 30th, 1933.

Yours truly,

CARL WM. WALIN (Manager).

a real blessing to us all. More students have arrived during the week.
Those attending classes at present are: Beulah Abbott, Vera Hanson, Alma Harber, Ellen Soderstrom,
Esther Winder, Violet Cairns, Edith Axene, Edith Nicholson, Olive Mc-Millan, Ethel Erickson, Lucy In-wert, Ruth Astner, Henry Johnson, Glen Pope, Merlin Simonson, and Roy Anderson.

Miss Esther Forsberg is with us and will be teaching Daily Vacation Bible School work to us.

Among the visitors of the past week were Miss Eva Turner, Rev. A.
Larson and Evangelist Collins.

Mr. A. P. Anderson, our teacher, spent the week-end with Rev. A. Larson at Water Glen. He delivered messages at Water Glen, Bashaw and Calumet.

The subjects of Mr. Anderson's special lectures at the Swedish Baptist church during next week are:
Wednesday evening, "How many Bodily Resurrections are there spoken of in the New Testament?"

Thursday evening, "Will there be an escape from hell for the lost?"

O. Larson is attending baptismal service at Camrose next Sunday, at which one of our students, Olive Mc-Millan, will be baptized.

Vera Hanson, the captain of the Bible School, bids you all come to the meetings, especially the Sunday school. During the six weeks of Bible school there is a contest between the Bible school and the regular Sunday school, the motive being to increase the attendance. The side bringing most pupils will be the winners. Our desire is to leave a larger and stronger Sunday school when we leave here. We ask your prayers that we may be used to the honor and glory of God here.—(Conc.)

Calgary, Jan. 26.—First dominion-wide convention of the newly-organized Co-operative Commonwealth Federation will be held in Regina early in July, with delegates of constituent units from coast to coast attending.
